

Take your business to the next level

Homeowners want to do business with contractors that are knowledgeable, experienced and reliable. To grow your business, especially in today's tough market, doesn't it make sense to keep your service in line with customers' needs?

Eaton's Certified Contractor Network (ECCN) program is a partnership of the contractor, the distributor and Eaton to provide homeowners with personalized and professional electrical contracting services. ECCN program members are given exclusive marketing and business-development tools plus specialized training on industry-leading Cutler-Hammer® products.

Set your company apart from the rest—and positively impact your bottom line. To find out more about ECCN, speak to your local Rexel distributor or visit www.eaton.com/ECCN
